Help Us Promote the Profession

ASCO invites the schools and colleges of optometry to send us photos of students and faculty working in the clinic, lab and classroom and participating in campus life and outreach. We will use the photos on our website and in various printed materials to help showcase and convey key messages about the profession of optometry to target audiences.

We thank all of those who have already shared pictures and encourage everyone to keep them coming! E-mail your photos to ASCO's Director of Communications Kimberly M. O'Sullivan at kosullivan@opted.org. By e-mailing the images, you grant us the necessary permission to use them for the purposes stated.
